AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

In ¶ 49 of Applicants' Application Publication (20050177826), please amend the text

(add the word "scope") and punctuation (end of paragraph) as indicated below in markup.

[0049] Accordingly, identification of an appropriate version of a target component can be based on other policies, such as, for example, component scope. A determining module can therefore identify an appropriate version of a target component based on any identified policy, such as the versioning policy and component scope of the specified target component, as well as any other system administrator-provided policies where appropriate.
